

LOOKS CAN BE EVERYTHING

FOCAL PASSAGE: ECC 10:18

BIBLICAL TRUTH: God wants our appearance to reflect our work.

BUSINESS IMPACT: To be mindful of the way we appear to the insiders and outsiders of our business

Ecclesiastes 10:18 If a man is lazy, the rafters sag: if his hands are idle, the house leaks.

In life and business we can get that attitude of not caring what people think about you, as long as you do a good job.

Well thinking like that can hurt your business.

You've heard the saying a plumbers pipes leak and a shoe makers daughter runs around without no shoes can be a practice that can hurt your business. Think about it would you want someone painting your house after seeing that the paint on his house is peeling and looking bad?

The way we dress the way we keep the office, our cars our house etc. All these can have a negative impact on your business inside the workplace and out. If your employees think you don't care they won't either.

I think God want us to do our very best when it comes to representing Him every way we can.

Remember a dirty mirror cannot reflect near the light as a clean mirror.

Take time once a week to look at your self and your business to see if and pipes are leaking or the rafters are starting to sag a bit.

PRAY— that we will be mindful at all times that we are reflectors of our father in heaven. We are the only bible that some will ever read.
